Dear Mr. Dulles:

Thursday, March 24,

On Friday, March 4, beginning with luncheon here in the Hotel Roosevelt, we will hold a non-military defense seminar with the theme: "To insure family safety in the Nuclear Age". Our audience will be made up of approximately 125 leaders of key industrial, professional, public service and communications organizations within the Empire State.

Since your warnings on the dangers of nuclear blackmail are so integral a part of the philosophy behind New York State's fallout protection program, I would like to ask you to take on an important assignment to which you and you alone could do justice. That assignment might possibly be to interpret for our audience the term "nuclear blackmail", what it is and how it is tactically used to further world communism; also the relationship between fallout protection and the preservation of peace.

With regard to our audience on that day, I can say without reservation that our assemblage will be made up of top-level public-spirited executives only, those who bear the greatest influence upon millions within New York City and our State, and in most cases our nation.

It is planned that during luncheon Governor Rockefeller will give the conclusions of the recent Governors' Conference (January 25, 1960) and whatever other remarks he may deem appropriate. The Seminar proper would be opened by Dr. Edward Teller who would treat the problem from the scientific standpoint.

President Eisenhower has stated that "all citizens...are jointly responsible for the civil defense and defense mobilization of the nation".

I know you are in accord with his thoughts and therefore will be of invaluable service in helping us to alert our many millions as well as those throughout the rest of the nation by your words of warning and advice.

May we be favored by your valuable participation?

Sincerely,

C. R. HUEBNER

On 27 February 1960 DCI telephoned General Huebner and expressed his regrets that he could not undertake to make this address, nor did he know anyone else available to substitute for him. General Huebner said he appreciated the problem and understood perfectly - no further reply necessary.
